APRIL 22-29, 2017 is National Infant Immunization Week

GAINESVILLE, GA – Immunization is a shared responsibility. Vaccines are among the most successful and cost-effective public health tools available for preventing disease and death. Vaccines not only help protect our children, but they can also help protect entire communities by preventing and reducing the spread of infectious diseases.

April 22 through 29 is National Infant Immunization Week, and Pamela Logan, M.D., District 2 Public Health Director, encourages all district residents to make sure their infants and children are up-to-date on vaccinations. Dr. Logan asserts that, “while it is important to ensure our children are vaccinated, another equally important way to protect our children is to make sure all family members, even adults, are up-to-date on their immunizations.”

Please visit your local health department or health care provider for more information about required and recommended immunizations. Also, visit www.phdistrict2.org or www.dph.ga.org for the immunizations schedules for Georgia.
